

Emily Tenorio Molina | Journalist

etenorio.m@berkeley.edu | Portfolio | LinkedIn

Summary: Multimedia reporter focusing on health, education, and local government across the Bay Area.

Work Experience:

Science Communications Intern | Center of Emerging and Neglected Diseases

09/2026 - Present

- Produce social media and newsletters for faculty, students, and the broader scientific community.
- Interview researchers, write profiles and web stories, and translate scientific research into accessible language.
- Translate scientific research papers into concise blog stories and social media posts.

Newscast Intern | KQED

07/2026 - Present

- Produce four stories a week on deadline for the afternoon newscast.
- Quickly identify and reach sources while efficiently fact-checking information on deadline.
- Report on Contra Costa County school districts, including district finances, declining enrollment, and teacher vacancies.

Tobacco Prevention Coordinator | Marin Health and Human Services

07/2025 - 07/2026

- Led discussions with public health leaders on health policy and tobacco prevention.
- Conducted outreach at 15+ community engagement events and produced 12 newsletters reaching 100+ community partners.
- Worked with Novato policymakers to support updates to tobacco control policies.

Freelance Reporter | Multiple Publications

07/2023 - 07/2026

- Contra Costa Pulse: Reported on social services accessibility, publishing 20+ stories.
- Bay City News: Produced multimedia coverage of data center development and daily news reports.
- Post News Group: Covered Oakland and Richmond Latinx communities on weekends.

Education:

University of California, Berkeley | M.J., Journalism

08/2025 - 05/2027

University of California, Berkeley | B.A., Dual Major English & Spanish

08/2019 - 05/2022

Awards & Fellowships:

- CASW ScienceWriters New Horizons Fellow
- PolicyLink College Journalist Fellow
- OpenNews Recipient
- Berkeley Journalism Dean's Scholarship